Dear Sirs:

./.. I enclose copy of my Memo regarding Raoul Wallenberg.

My question is: Are you possessed of a report written by Berkowitz from his visit to Moscow? It is of importance to us to know the point of time for his journey.

If you do not have the report, perhaps you could contact his family to get to know which year he made his journey to Russia. If it took place in 1948 , which I myself suppose, or later.

As I can remember, Baruch Zuckermann, Kubowitski and possibly Arie Tartakower were the initiators of his journey. Recently I had a talk with Dr. Nahum Goldmann, who remembers the Berkowitz case. As far as I can see he has sanctioned the journey.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely Yours,

G. Storch
